

VANT FEE REDUCED AT EXTRA SESSION MORRIS BACK TODAY

Local Barbers Petition the Governor to Include Matter in "Call" if He Issues One

GOVERNOR DELAYS FOR WEEK

Executive Starts on Trip About State; Won't Give Out His Decision Before Next Monday

IS THERE'S DEMAND FOR CALL

Lieut. Governor Sees No Reason Why Governor Should Not Call the Members Together

A special session of the state legislature called to reduce the barbers' license fee. The call for a special session, if there shall be one, may assign the foregoing as one of the reasons for the executive action. At the request of a committee of the local barbers, consisting of Joseph Houska, C. Johnson and Ed Kramer, Senator Bosshard today telephoned the governor asking that the call be made to include the barbers' item. Also, the committee has written the governor to the same effect. Union barbers claim the law increasing the fees from $1.00 to $2.00 was secured by the board of examiners upon the misrepresentation that the barbers favored it. Advised that the special cannot handle the subject unless it is mentioned in the call, they are seeking to have their matter incorporated in that document.

MADISON, Wis., April 1.—Gov. McGovern took no formal action today on the plan of calling a special session of the legislature.

It is probable that the governor will make no announcement of his intentions until next week. He discussed the matter with friends last night. His time today was occupied with the state board of public affairs, and tonight or tomorrow morning he will leave for Superior, Minn., and Black River Falls, Wis., where he will return Sunday night or Monday and it is probable that he will not make a statement on the special session. The petition given him yesterday asked that the session be called before town meeting day, which is Tuesday.

It seems probable that the governor will sign the call and limit it to the tax matter alone which will be discussed.

Thinks "Call" Will Come Lieutenant Governor Morris, one of the four state officials who signed the call for the special session, returned to La Crosse today.

Asked if he thought the governor could issue the call he said: "I can conceive no reason why Governor McGovern will not call a special session of the legislature. There seems to be a widespread demand for it."

MISS DOERMANN DENIES SHE'S DEAD

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 1.—Miss Pauline Doermann today issued a statement, denying that she had died in the Windsor hotel fire. She heard vague rumors during the week that she had perished but it was not until she received a copy of a Pontiac, Ill., paper containing her obituary, that she became greatly interested. Miss Doermann did not stop at the Windsor hotel and she is much larger than the woman who was found. Theodore Fuller, divorced husband of Mrs. Fuller, who was believed to have been the fire victim, arrived here today to view the body. His two sisters are divided in their opinions.

Appointment as Postmaster Held Up During Rush Season at Request of Big Mail Users

KEELER NOT HOLDING UP CHOICE

Only Real Contest for Office Was Between Skaar and John F. Doherty of This City

Olaf R. Skaar will be the next postmaster at La Crosse as was announced exclusively in The Tribune several weeks ago.

Mr. B. F. Keeler, state deputy of the Modern Woodmen of America, is not holding up the appointment, in fact the only real contest ever existing for the berth being that between Mr. Skaar and Attorney John F. Doherty of this city.

Mr. Skaar's appointment, while it was intended to be sent to the senate for confirmation some time ago, will not go in until June or July because of a request of some of the largest users of the mails here that Mr. Tscherner, the present postmaster, be permitted to remain during the rush season.

Mr. Joseph E. Lawie, commissioner at corporations and the president's advisor on Wisconsin patronage, has already recommended Mr. Skaar to Postmaster General Burleson and he will send the appointment to the president for approval. The request for the delay was made by the postal department by Congressman John J. Esch at the instance of the La Crosse users of the mails.

IDENTIFY BODY

MILWAUKEE, April 1.—The charred and blackened body of a woman, recovered from the Windsor hotel ruins last week, was today identified beyond all doubt as that of Mrs. Ted Fuller, or Winifred Boyce as she was known after securing a divorce. Two sisters—Mrs. C. A. Birmingham and Mrs. Frank Tewes of Neenah, made the identification complete.

DULL LAKE SEASON DUE

MILWAUKEE, April 1.—Reports from north that all straits will be opened by April 15 were not greeted with enthusiasm here today. Ship owners declare they would prefer to have the season open a month later. A slice of five cents in the coal rate and closing of Ohio coal fields are said to portend a dull season.

JUAREZ, April 1.—A Mexican federal troop train carrying reinforcements to General Jose Refugio Velasco at Torreon was wrecked by rebels, according to a dispatch received at noon by constitutionalist officers here.

Goethals Becomes Canal Governor

CULEBRA, Canal Zone, April 1.—Colonel Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, became first civil governor of the Panama canal zone today. The entire city government formally became operative, under President Wilson's executive order abolishing the old commission form of government.

ARE SERVED WITH FANCY "MESS"

Mess-Call at 7:30 Ushers In Feed Which Was Not Reminiscent of the Field Rations

Members of Wilson Colwell and John Flynn posts of the Grand Army of the Republic were last night received as honorary members of the M. C. Casberg camp, No. 11, United Spanish War veterans, at a big celebration held at the Y. M. C. A.

More than one hundred and fifty members of the posts and camps of the city attended the reception, in spite of the inclement weather. The auditorium of the Y. M. C. A., in which the reception was held, was beautifully decorated with a number of large and small flags. The stage was decorated with palms and evergreens, partially hiding from view the Y. M. C. A. orchestra, which furnished music. The orchestra comprised Prof. J. M. Brigham and Victor Wolters, violins; Donald Clark and C. R. Bearmore, cornets; Horton Kline, clarinet, and Charles Weiss, piano.

Have Fancy "Mess"

The company was called to "mess" at 7:30, the like of which was seldom seen during the dark days of the war. Few soldiers on the field ever enjoyed a mess consisting of beef loaf, mashed potatoes, brown sauce, bread and butter sandwiches, salad, ice cream, cake and coffee. The delighted dinner was served by the "messladies" Elsie Herning, Martha Platz, Anna Young, Flora Olsen, Rose Schultz, Elvina Kelley, Mary Chandler, Anna Schroeder, Hannah Storkersen, Frank Leahy, Rose Engelhard, Louis Weigel, E. W. Gautsch, Rose Stafford and Goethe and Miss C. M. Young, members of Casberg auxiliary No. 2.

During the dinner the orchestra played, and the Y. M. C. A. quartet sang "Tenting Tonight," during which more than one of the old faces grew luminous with the remembrance of the scenes brought back to them by the song. After "mess" was finished, the entire company rose to sing "Marching Through Georgia" to the accompaniment of Mr. Bearmore on the cornet. The regular number of stanzas were not enough for the old boys, who insisted that another be sung.

Leahy Tells Object

In receiving the G. A. R. members as honorary members of Casberg camp, Vice Commander F. W. Leahy said that the purpose of the organization of the Spanish War Veterans was not only to perpetuate the memory of the war in Cuba and the Philippines and the Chinese relief expedition, but to work with the Grand Army as well, saying that the union of the two organizations was the best way to carry out the purpose.

Captain Frank H. Fowler of Company M, a member of the camp, in an address of welcome to the Grand Army, spoke of the honor conferred on the Spanish war veterans by the G. A. R. acceptance of honorary membership in the camp. The way in which the men of '61 did their work, he said, has ever since been an inspiration to the whole world. Other wars, he said, have been fought from religious or jealous motives, but the war of the rebellion was fought in defense of principle, which made it all the more honorable. It is the right of soldiers to cherish the liberty and freedom of their country, he said. Men are not born to simply enjoy this life, but to support right and enforce ideals. He decried the sentiment being created against the military, when we realize that all we have and all that any nation has ever had has been gained through the clash of arms. Had the boys of '61 counted the loss, we would not today be where we are. "Armed force," he said, "is an absolute necessity. A blow is struck and war is declared. America should be armed, not for aggression, but for defense, to enforce right and justice."

Following the address by Captain Fowler, Prof. James R. Kerr sang the old favorite, "Barbara Fritchie."

J. M. Holley Speaks Commander O. T. Stevens was called upon to speak, but he modestly gave the floor to J. M. Holley, who led the response of Colwell post. "This event," he said, "is one of the most serious and at the same time one of the grandest events since the war. It marks the beginning of a new era in which companionship between the old and the new will be greatly furthered. The citizenship (Continued on Page Six)

TRIBUNE ARTICLE SAVES CANDIDATES THROUGH COUNTY

Two Towns and One Village Will Qualify Men for the Ballot

THEY HELD CAUCUSES TOO LATE

Men Named Not Eligible and They Circulate Petition Instead

WEST SALEM ABANDONS MEETING

Candidates Are Picked and Petitions Circulated in Hurry Last Night

Two towns and one village have been saved from facing the spring election without qualified candidates through an article appearing in The Tribune calling attention to the ruling of the attorney general relative to the time limit of caucuses. The towns of Barre and Washington and the village of West Salem failed to hold caucuses the required length of time prior to the election, April 7, and but for the warning conveyed through The Tribune would have failed to have made nominations by petition until too late.

Circulate Petitions

Monday was the last caucus day. Barre and Washington held their caucuses Tuesday but are today circulating nomination petitions to file with the town clerks. Having gone over the time limit the caucus nominations counted for nothing.

The law provides, however, that nominations can be made by petition providing that the petitions are filed with the town clerk five days before the election. Today is the last day for filing nomination petitions and had the discovery of the error in holding the caucuses been delayed a few days both towns would have found that the men named in the caucus were ineligible.

Abandon Caucus

The village of West Salem had scheduled its caucus for yesterday but after learning of the time error the election officers abandoned the caucus entirely. A special meeting was held last night at which candidates were selected and nomination papers are in circulation there today. They will be filed with the village clerk late this afternoon.

The trouble arose over a misinterpretation of the new election law providing for a caucus seven days before the election. Some of the election officers interpreted the law to mean seven days, including the caucus or election day. The attorney general's ruling, however, is to the effect that seven days must intervene.

The other towns and the village of Engador held their caucuses before the time limit expired.

TO RESIDE IN THE WEST

Couple Will Make Their Home in Fumatra, Mont.; Both Are Well Known in La Crosse

A. P. Clark and Miss Ida Babbitt, 435 South Fourth street, both of La Crosse, were married in St. Paul today, and are now speeding westward to their new home in Fumatra, Montana.

"Burt" Clark has been a resident of La Crosse since boyhood, and was for many years associated with his brother, Fred Clark, in the livery business. They also have real estate holdings in this city and in Minnesota.

For twelve years, from April 11, 1893 to April 7, 1905, Mr. Clark served the city as alderman from the Second ward and during that service he was almost continuously president of the city council.

Mr. Clark and Miss Babbitt kept their plans secret, and slipped away quietly. Yesterday they shipped a carload of personal property, this morning they left together on the early Burlington train for St. Paul. They were married between trains, making their western connection in the afternoon.

TOLL EXEMPTION REPEAL PASSED IN THE LOWER HOUSE

Goes Through Last Night After Clark Speech by Vote of 244 to 160

WANTS HASTY ACTION IN SENATE

Wilson Issues Speed-up Orders to Upper House Committee Having Bill

LA FOLLETTE PLANS TO PROTEST

Wisconsin Senator and Borah Both to Make Long Set Speeches Against the Bill

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Repeal of the free canal tolls bill was passed by the house of representatives last night by a vote of 247 to 160.

On the motion to recommit the repeal bill the vote was 232 to 176. This cut the majority of 87 obtained on the vote for the third reading by 41 votes.

Can't Hurry Senate

President Wilson today took up in person, with Senators Kern, James, and the other administration senators in the upper house, the question of expediting the tolls repeal bill in the senate. He was told that this was impossible. Red tape and hoary precedent against cloture rules prevented prompt action there. The president was frankly told that the repeal bill cannot be forced to a vote in less than four to six weeks.

It is admitted that some senators will develop capital for the campaign of 1916 out of the bill. This is especially so of Borah and La Follette. Both will make lengthy set speeches against the Sims bill, and both are past masters in the art of parliamentary tactics as applied in the senate.

Will Rally Forces

It was admitted at the White House that the president realizes this, and he will personally rally his forces for the fight in the senate. Comparatively few of the democratic senators will make a fight against the president. O'Gorman of New York will be the leader. Chamberlain of Oregon, Walsh of Montana, Vandaman of Mississippi, will openly assist him.

The Sims bill was received in the senate today and immediately referred to the committee on inter-oceanic canals of which O'Gorman is chairman. This committee is expected to retain the bill for a week or ten days. It will probably be reported out without a report, and will then go on the calendar.

Wilson Wants Action

An ultimatum went forth from the White House today to the senate committee on inter-oceanic canals. It was that, unless that body promptly report the Sims Panama canal tolls repeal bill, the administration forces in the senate, with an estimated majority of 16, will summarily force the committee's hand. The president has decided that the rules of the senate shall not be permitted to delay immediate action.

The docks were being cleared today for a fight that, for far reaching effect, will far eclipse that which ended in the house last night. There was no hesitancy in admitting at the White House that the entire future foreign policy of the administration hangs in the balance of the present fight.

Would Reserve Rights

An amendment providing that the repeal shall not be construed as a surrender of the rights claimed by the United States to regulate the traffic passing through the canal was proposed on the floor this afternoon by Senator Norris. His amendment claimed the right by the United States at any time to give to coastwise vessels and other vessels of the United States either entire or partial exemption. It declared that the protest heretofore filed by England against such a construction of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty presents an international question suitable for arbitration. The president was directed in the amendment to begin negotiations with England for the arbitration.

Polindexter of Washington introduced an amendment proposing that all consideration by the senate of the tolls exemption repeal bill be delayed until the president informs the senate, in confidence, if he so desires, who are the unnamed matters of "nearer consequence and greater delicacy" referred to in his address.

INSURGENCY IS THE BIG ISSUE

Delegates from Every Camp in County Here for the Big Fight for Control

The insurgent faction in the Woodmen county convention bolted the meeting this afternoon at 3:30, following their defeat on an attempt to pass resolutions instructing the delegates to the state convention in a manner favorable to the insurgent cause. Their resolutions were ruled out of order on the ground that the delegates had not yet been elected.

William Wolfe, La Crosse Camp. B. F. Keeler, state deputy. Rev. T. S. Oadams, La Crosse Camp.

The above Woodmen of the administration faction, are practically assured of election as the three delegates to the Modern Woodmen of America convention to be held in Milwaukee in May.

A caucus of the administration faction held previous to the county convention, now in session in the Linker hall, showed that an administration victory is practically assured.

Have Majority

Twenty-seven of the twenty-eight La Crosse delegates were present at the administration caucus, and unanimously agreed to support Wolfe, Oadams and Keeler as delegates to the convention. The twenty-seven votes will just give the administration faction the required majority.

Every Camp There

Practically every camp in La Crosse county was represented by its full delegation at the county convention of the Woodmen which opened here this afternoon.

The election of the three delegates to the state convention became the issue, the insurgents attempting to send men of their own faction to the Milwaukee convention to overthrow the present administration while the standpatters rallied to the support of the present officers.

Bentley Is Chairman

At the opening of the convention A. A. Bentley of the La Crosse camp, an administration man, was elected temporary chairman and the administration faction continued to control the convention on questions pertaining to organization.

FORMER MINISTER CLAIMS CHARACTER HAS BEEN INJURED

Alfred Leslie Morse, Anoka, Minn., Says State Deputy Circulated Story of Wife Desertion

CIRCULAR MAILED THROUGH STATE

Maintains False Story Was Sent Out by La Crosse Man in Campaign Against Insurgency

SAYS OFFICIALS ARE "AFTER HIM"

Recites that He Incurred Enmity by Preparing Insurance Table Which Did Not Get Their Approval

Charging libelous defamation of character, Alfred Leslie Morse of Anoka, Minn., one of the leaders of the Woodmen insurgents in the middle west, today started suit against B. F. Keeler of La Crosse, state deputy of the Modern Woodmen, for $50,000 damages. Summons in the action was to be served upon Mr. Keeler this afternoon.

The libelous statements attributed by Morse to Keeler is alleged to be contained in a circular entitled "Who's Who and Why," which Morse alleges has been circulated throughout Wisconsin by the state deputy. As evidence that Keeler circulated the circular, envelopes in which the circular was mailed are presented. They bear the return card of B. F. Keeler, La Crosse.

Charged Abandonment

The libelous statements concern an alleged abandonment by Morse of his wife and six children several years ago in Neenah, Wis., while Morse was pastor of a church at that place. The circular also declares that Morse later secured a divorce from his wife through perjured testimony. Both of these statements are denied by the complainant.

The circular also incorporates a statement, signed by a Mrs. Morse, which purports to be a complete story of Morse's abandonment of his wife, and subsequent securing of a divorce through perjury. Morse declares that the statement is false, and that so far as he has been able to find out, his former wife issued no such declaration.

Morse Is Divorced

Morse is a divorced man, having secured a divorce from his wife in 1898. He declares that he only secured the decree after his wife had left him, and remained obdurate against his pleas that she return to him.

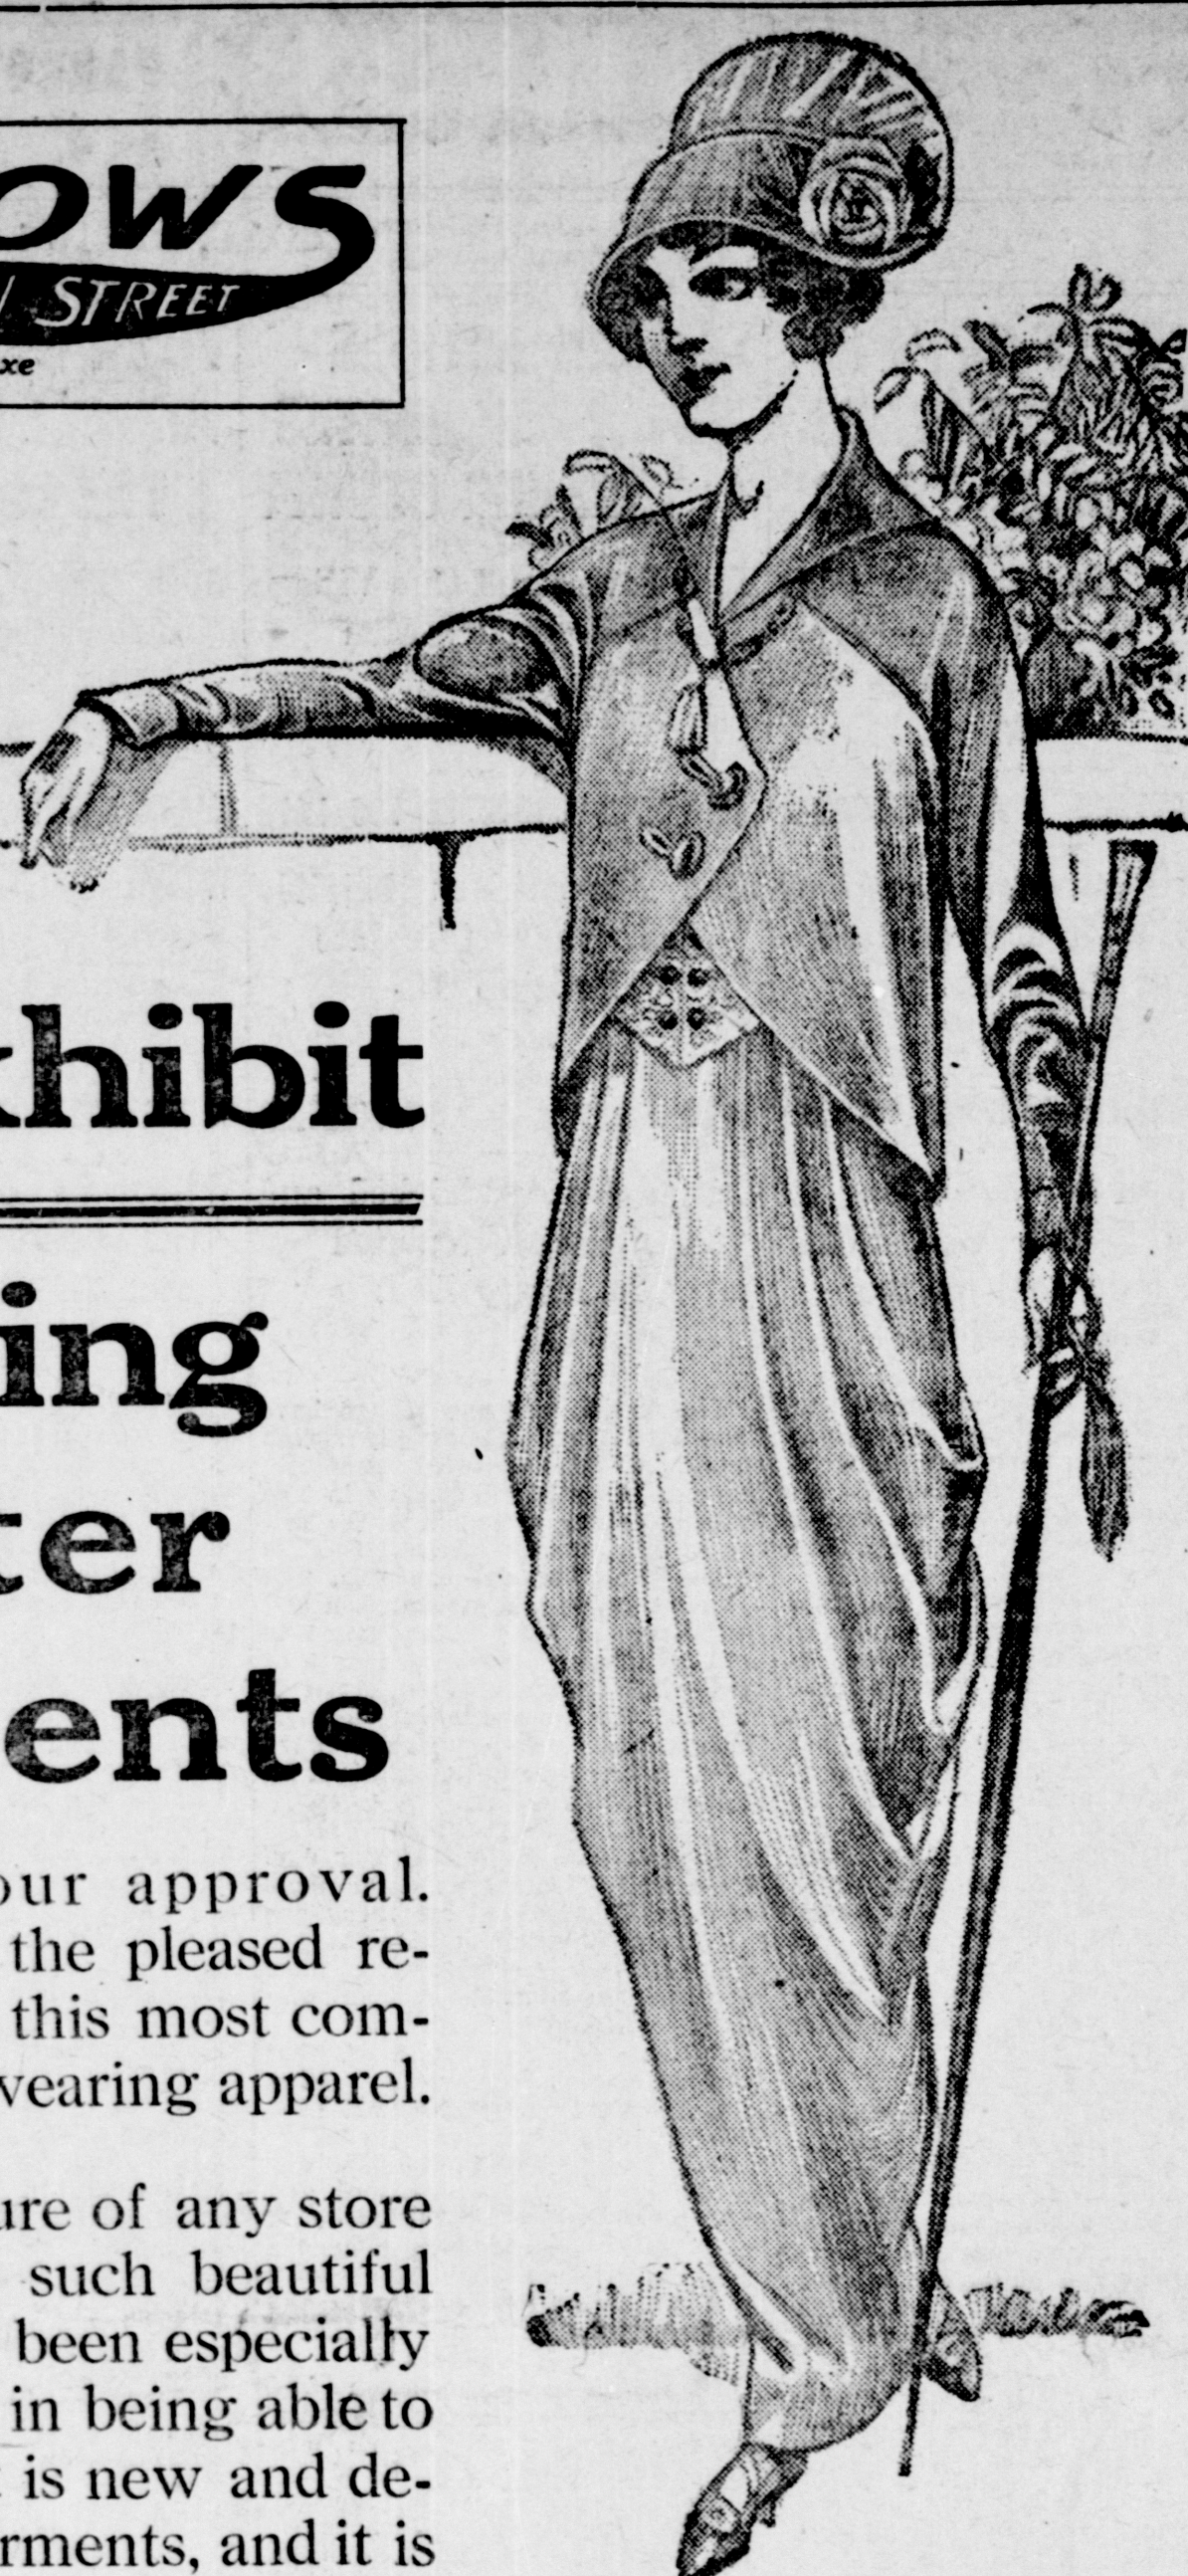

In an interview today Paul W. Mahoney, Morse's attorney here, declared that the administration officials of the Woodmen were "after Mr. Morse's scalp," because he had prepared an insurance table, purporting to show that the higher rates imposed by the head camp officials in 1910 are not warranted by the actual cost of the insurance. The table prepared by Morse has been widely used by the insurgent Woodmen as a campaign document in their fight against the higher rates.

Used in Other States

Asked whether the circular had been circulated in other states beside Wisconsin, Morse declared that he understood that to be the case. He said that if investigation proved that other state deputies had been sending out the circulars, he would file libel suits against them also, and possibly against the head camp of Modern Woodmen.

"BOBBY" SWENSON GETS THE BABY

With Due Form and Ceremony He Is Presented with Suckling Pig from Stage

Last night at the Majestic, as advertised, the management of the Van Dyke and Eaton company made the presentation of a "real, live baby" to the holder of the lucky number. The house, despite the most inclement weather so far this spring, was filled to see this company in their production of "Beverly of Graustark," which is a remarkable one for a stock of this class, and eagerly awaited the presentation of the "baby" which was advertised to be given away from the stage. Quite a lot of speculation was rife as to what kind, sort and condition of "baby" was meant, and when assured that the little one was of "good family," and so far as known without a blemish as to physique, or mentality—in other words a perfect specimen of the "Baby Eugene," Robert Swenson, of the North American Telegraph Co., who was the holder of the lucky number, after assuring the management to give the infant a good home, and proper care was presented with the aforesaid infant—which when unwrapped from its swaddling clothes turned out to be a beautiful specimen—though of dusky color—of the genus swine—more commonly called a suckling pig.

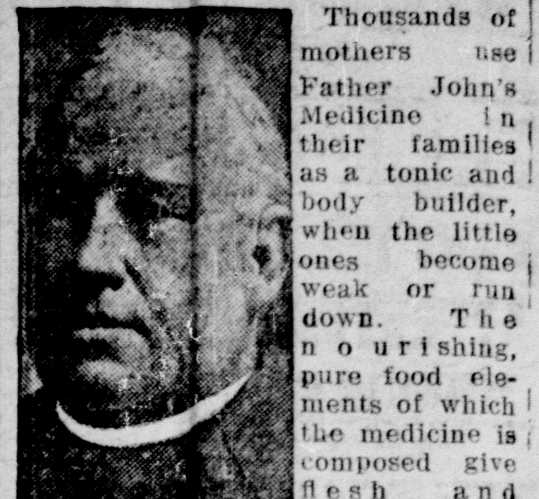

"Beverly of Graustark" will be repeated for the last time tonight. Starting tomorrow—Thursday matinee—a "play without a name" will be given for the last half of the week and a cash prize of five dollars will be given to the auditor who selects the most appropriate name for the play. There will also be the special feature of the "pink tea" on Thursday afternoon, the diamond ring on Thursday night—and, the weather permitting—the baby contest on Friday afternoon, when a prize will be awarded to the smallest, fattest and prettiest babies at the matinee. Friday night, rain or shine, the colored wedding on the stage and amateurs, Saturday matinee the five dollar prize for the boy or girl who makes the most words out of the title, "Van Dyke and Eaton Company." And in addition, bargain sale of seats every day if purchased before six o'clock at the box office of the theater.

SPOTLIGHTS

BESSEY STOK
It can be safely said that the people of La Crosse have seldom been so impressed with a performance given by a stock company as they have this week by the Jack Bessey company in their production of Jas. J. Corbett's famous play, "The Burglar and the Lady" which will be given for the last time tonight at the La Crosse Theater. Seldom has a popular priced company attempted to present such a strong bill, and seldom have they given the satisfaction that seems to be so evident among the patrons.

At the Thursday matinee the bill will change when the attraction for the last half of this week will be a four act western comedy drama, "The Man From Wyoming." This is not one of the rough and ready, blood and thunder order, but a clean cut story of real life as it is today in Wyoming. The characters are all well drawn, with a powerful love story, and plenty of good wholesome comedy all through. There will be a Thursday and Saturday matinee of this bill.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist
As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach troubles possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is acid in the stomach, usually due to, or aggravated by, food fermentation. Acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your chemist for the bisulphated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Dance In the Aquarium.

"THERE was a dance given yesterday in the aquarium," said daddy. "I heard that there had been one, for I saw a little girl this morning who told me that she had been to see it. She was on her way to school and was very much afraid she would be late, so she couldn't stop to tell me much about it. I knew you two children would want to hear all about it, so this afternoon I went to see the keeper of the aquarium."

"Oh, daddy," said Evelyn, "you're so thoughtful and so good! We'd love to hear about it. My, but that does sound funny—to think of the fishes having a dance! Do tell us about it!"

"Well, they had a most beautiful time. The great big fishes got it up, and it was a huge success. The water flew about the tanks and covered the floor. In fact, the floor got so wet that it took hours for the keeper to dry it up again, because they all danced with such enthusiasm and they thought it such fun. And, too they didn't see why they couldn't spill all the water they wanted to. They couldn't possibly imagine why any one should object to walking in the puddles or in getting his feet wet."

"They flopped around and sprang around in graceful attitudes. They danced together; they danced separately. They twirled; they turned. And they did everything imaginable. They thought it very stupid to keep to one dance where there were so many kinds and variations which they could do."

"Then when they all had danced just as much as they could and were panting for breath an old fish said:

"Now, when I was young we used to think that a party wasn't a party unless we were all tired out. So I suggest that a dancing competition be started. The one who can dance longest and best will receive the great privilege of having all us old fish do a special dance, an old fashioned one of ours, for him, all in his honor."

"The young fishes were allowed to rest just a moment, and then the dance began. They danced in pairs, and after every round some of the fishes were put out, and only the best continued."

"Finally only four fishes were left in the competition, then two and at last only one. That was the tango fish. He was almost the favorite of the keeper, who was delighted to have him win the competition, and when he got through he didn't seem so terribly tired, which certainly proved that he was naturally a pretty good dancer."

"But they were all tired enough to have made it seem like a very real party. Then the old fishes did their dance in honor of Mr. Tango."

"And the keeper thought he'd like to help along the party, so he provided the finest of suppers for them."

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 1.—The stock market opened with a greater volume of activity than any recent day and the tone was good. Advances as a rule were confined to small fractions, but sentiment was more cheerful. Missouri Pacific was a strong feature.

11 a. m.—At the end of the first hour trading became very dull and traders said that the bull movement had completely flattened out. As most were bears they were pleased with the turn of affairs. It was said the new rate schedules would mean a loss of $10,000,000 annually to the U. S. Steel corporation and to this was laid the heaviness of the issue.

Noon.—The trading during the second hour was light and the price changes were negligible. Bearishness on Steel seemed to be too pronounced for the weakness of the stock. The short interest in the stock seemed to be increasing.

2 p. m.—A sharp rise in Missouri Pacific and Texas Pacific in the afternoon was more than the general market could stand. The street regarded it as manipulative. Scattered selling and a heaviness in the general list followed. New York Central sold off on unfavorable February showing and rumors of a reduced dividend.

Stocks sagged off at the finish and the market closed weak.

COMMISSION SAVES EMPLOYERS MONEY

Manufacturers Benefited by Industrial Board Proves Chairman C. E. Crownhart at Madison

ACCIDENTS ARE REDUCED BY LAW

Number of Compensation Cases Steadily Decreasing with Consequent Big Savings

MADISON, Wis., April 1.—Actual figures proving that the industrial commission is saving Wisconsin manufacturers thousands of dollars are an interesting exhibit in an article by Chairman C. E. Crownhart of the industrial commission in this week's La Follette's Magazine. Writing on the prevention of industrial accidents and the saving of money thereby, Mr. Crownhart says:

Business Proposition
"The commission in its three years of experience has met with success far beyond all expectations. It has treated the whole matter strictly as a business proposition. The employed can see that. To save life and limb saves money. This argument appeals to the businessman more effectively than an appeal to his sympathies. The result is just the same—human lives are saved; suffering and pain are prevented, and workers are able to continue their employment and to support their families. To illustrate the saving that has been made, I give the results achieved by a few manufacturers. The Bucyrus company has reduced accidents 46 per cent since September, 1911. The Fairbanks-Morse Manufacturing company of Beloit has reduced accidents 72 per cent since 1906. The Lindemann & Holverson company of Milwaukee reported 103 compensation cases in 1912, and only 53 in 1913; for two months in 1914 the same company reported only three cases. This is the record of only a few companies.

Thousands Paid Out
"The industrial commission administers the workmen's compensation act. This act provides for medical attention to the injured workmen and the payment of a certain percentage of his loss of wage during disability. Prior to the passage of this act the workmen were relegated to a common law action in the courts. Under the rules of the common law they could recover, on the average, in only one case out of seven. During the year prior to the passage of the compensation act, $600,000 was paid out on account of personal injury cases. Of this amount the injured workman received only $150,000. It actually cost $450,000 to carry $150,000 to the men who were hurt! In other words the men who were hurt—lawyers, claim agents, adjusters, witnesses and court officers—received three times as much of the cost of accidents as the men who were hurt.

Injured Gets Money
"In January, 1914, compensation was paid injured workmen on the basis of $900,000 a year. The cost of administering the law during that month was on the basis of less than $12,000 a year. To compare the old system with the new, we have, in 1910, a cost of $450,000 to carry $150,000 to the injured workmen; in 1914, the injured workmen will receive $900,000 and the administration cost will be less than $12,000.

This represents the enormous waste under the old system, but it does not represent all the waste. The cost to the counties for court expense and incidental expenses was very large. The Circuit court expense increased 102 per cent during the last ten years, and the supreme court expense increased 119 per cent. The increased cost of courts almost entirely through the increased cost of personal injury litigation."

CORN SYRUP MADE 500 YEARS AGO

MADISON, Wis., April 1.—Dr. H. W. Wiley, pure food authority, gave his opinion that real corn syrup has been made for 500 years, and that it was not glucose. Testifying for the state in the Corn Products company's injunction suit in federal court here yesterday and today, he declared that articles were made 500 years ago which can truly be labeled corn syrup. From historical writings he quoted to show that man syrup products were made from maize and sugar; this was real corn syrup. Similarly constituted product made in recent years have received the highest awards at exposition, he said. To these he asserted that name of corn syrup can properly be applied. Of late years these have not been put on the market to much extent, he added.

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN DIGESTS FOOD WHEN STOMACH CAN'T—IT'S GREAT

Stops Indigestion, Sourness, Gas and Dyspepsia in Five Minutes.

If you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, undigested food and acid, heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you need Pape's Diapepsin to stop food fermentation and indigestion. It neutralizes excessive acid, stomach poison; absorbs that misery-making gas and stops fermentation which sours your entire meal and causes Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Bloating, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapepsin will cost fifty cents at any pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer in five minutes that fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that relief is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.

Pape's Diapepsin will regulate any out-of-order Stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort, all of any kind of food you eat.
